50 B. Casting of Ballots

51 Mr. Adams stated that property owners in attendance who have not already proxied

53 their votes to someone else cannot submit a ballot.

54 Mr. Adams collected the ballots, proxies and proxy holder ballots and reported that 55 votes were present, in person, and represented by Proxy Holders Rosanne Duffy and Chris 56 Hasty. Mr. Chris Hasty is the designated Proxy Holder of 1,751 votes on behalf of the major

63 Discussion ensued regarding the non-Developer Landowners not having enough votes to 64 override the Developer votes.

65 Mr. Adams explained the requirements and process to transition to the General Election 66 process. An attendee asked the Developer representatives to consider electing at least one of 67 the resident Landowner preferred candidates.

68 Discussion ensued regarding other Developer Landowners that still hold property and 69 votes.

70 In response to the question of whether the other Developer Landowners will vote or if 71 they proxied their votes, Mr. Adams stated that they are not present to vote and did not proxy 72 their votes.

73 Discussion ensued regarding home sites, undeveloped lots, platted units, parcels,
74 assessments and zoning actions.

93 has been a Land Development Manager for Lennar for three years.

94 Mr. Hasty thanked the residents in attendance and stated it is not the Board's intent to 95 remain longer than is necessary and, as soon as they are able to, they will resign their Seats so 96 residents can take control. Although Board Members can receive compensation of $200 per 97 meeting , the current Board Members decline the compensation because they feel it is part of

Consideration of Transfer of Surface Water Management System Permit from Construction to Operation and Maintenance

99
100
101
102

103 Mr. Haber explained that, by virtue of the plats that have been approved, there has 104 been a transfer of dedication of the easements and maintenance responsibility for the 105 stormwater system in the community to the CDD. At previous meetings, there were motions
106 approving the transfer of the permit for the stormwater system from the Developer to the CDD.
107 The South Florida Water Management District (SFWMD) changed the way the permit is 108 transferred so, rather than transferring the permit in phases, it is transferred all at once.
109 Resolution 2023-03 facilitates authorizing the final step of transferring the permit.

110 Mr. Barraco confirmed that the SFWMD changed its policy and Staff is still certifying 111 permits by phase but the new policy requests a final certification encompassing all the phases.
112 Once the matter of a bond is completed, the final certification will be issued.

Consideration of Acceptance of Deeds and Easements for Stormwater and Conservation Parcels

129

130

131

132 Mr. Haber stated the Deeds for the Stormwater and Conservation Parcels were 133 prepared by District Counsel’s office, in coordination with the District Manager, to identify the 134 areas to be conveyed to the CDD. The documents must still be transmitted to the various 135 Landowners for review and they will ultimately execute the deeds and deliver them to the CDD.
136 He recommended approval in substantial form and authorizing the Chair to finalize the 137 acceptance of the deeds, subject to review by the various Landowners identified in the deeds.

152 EIGHTH ORDER OF BUSINESS

Update: Lake Bank Erosion and Retaining
Wall Damage Remediation153
154
155

Mr. Barraco gave the following update:

- 156 ➤ After Hurricane Ian, Staff toured the site, including the entire perimeter of all lakes, and 157 prepared the WildBlue CDD Retaining Wall Damage Exhibit.
- 158 ➤ Staff photographed and documented the damages to the retaining wall.
- 159 ➤ There is approximately 6,400 total linear footage of wall damage and 5,350 linear feet of 160 total major damage.
- 161 ➤ The maps will be converted to a computer format and posted on the CDD website.
- 162 ➤ The two colors on the legend delineate the difference between the major damage and 163 minor damage areas.

164 Mr. Barraco read the following note from the report into the record:

165 “This exhibit is intended to document the location of the retaining wall which 166 may be structurally-damaged by Hurricane Ian, other damage including but not 167 limited washouts, land of the retaining wall, erosion around the retaining wall 168 were visible but slight, non-structural changes in the wall alignment are not 169 exhibits.”

170 Discussion ensued regarding the data maps, major damage versus minor or “light”
171 damage areas, total linear feet of the entire area, repair costs, 60% damage to the lakes, survey
172 locations, Indigo Lake, Latitude Lake and which entity is responsible for repairing the damages.

173 Mr. Adams stated that Mr. Haber researched the statutes and the documented damages
174 qualify as an emergency of procurement, which allows the CDD to bypass the lengthy sealed bid
175 process. Staff received one proposal and is currently working with Lennar to secure better
176 proposals, which will be presented at the January meeting. Asked about the bid received, Mr.
177 Adams stated the cost is approximately $500 per linear foot, which is exorbitant. Staff hopes to 178 have the work started in the first quarter of 2023. Another bond issue will be necessary and 179 assessments will have to be levied over all units that the original assessments were spread over 180 and to the same criteria. The retaining wall damage is compounded by erosion on every single 181 lake that was present before the storm. The CDD planned to address what was mostly on the 182 property lines of every home on the stormwater/external ponds. There was nothing regarding 183 the recreational ponds at that time but that has changed. All repair work will be covered by the 184 bond issue. Lennar will do construction administration at no charge to the CDD and Mr.

185 Barraco, as the District Engineer, will be involved in reviewing plans, doing walk-throughs and 186 inspecting the work as it is performed and will sign off and be a part of the acceptance process.

187 Mr. Barraco stated erosion repairs on the smaller lakes, not caused by the storm, must 188 be done in the dry season, when the water levels decrease; there must be a waiting period to 189 make sure the repairs are completed properly.

190 The residents in attendance voiced their concerns and frustrations regarding the 191 extensive Hurricane Ian damage, responsibility for erosion repairs and what they perceive as a 192 flawed design of the seawall and posed the following questions:

193 Regarding what entity is responsible for the repairs, Mr. Adams stated the CDD is 194 responsible and, as a part of that work, some preventative measures will be installed and most 195 of the work that the CDD will be doing will include a spreader berm.

196 The property owners voiced their opinion that they have the right to view the specs that 197 were put forth at the time the wall was installed, as they believe the issues might be the 198 contractor's fault. Mr. Barraco emphasized and reiterated that the erosion repair work on the 199 water management lakes will not commence until the dry season.

200 Regarding why homeowners were not informed at the time of purchase that they have 201 to pay for repairs, Mr. Hasty stated there is implied maintenance that goes along with owning 202 property and a home. Mr. Barraco stated the SFWMD governs construction in Southwest
203 Florida and issued a permit for this system. As part of the permit issuance, the SFWMD requires
204 a legal operating entity be in place, such as a POA, HOA or CDD, and the reason is that the State 205 is aware that these systems require maintenance. It is well-accepted that maintenance of these 206 systems is required throughout the life of the system.

207 Regarding why there was not a design that included riprap or grasses to catch the water
208 that creates runoff between homes, Mr. Barraco stated the State mandates that only a 209 maximum of 40% of the perimeter can be hardened, via riprap or a retaining wall, but the 210 littoral plants are also very effective. Regarding installing riprap, Mr. Barraco stated, if the 211 District Manager and the Board are amenable to resident input on the rebuilding process, it is 212 an appropriate discussion. Additional consideration was given to the shoreline in that additional 213 permission was obtained from the County for its construction, but, if not, the CDD will have had 214 a much greater problem because the shoreline is fairly stable with the rocks, retaining wall and 215 littoral plantings. Mr. Barraco stated that he did not design the retaining wall.

216 Regarding whether residents have access to the drawings, Mr. Adams stated they do. A 217 link will be put on the CDD website so the drawings can be viewed and downloaded.

218 Regarding resident perception that the seawall did not hold up and the questions of 219 when it will be rebuilt, who Lennar will engage and the amount of the original bond, Mr. Adams 220 stated the original bond was $22 million.

221 Regarding whether the community is fully developed, Mr. Adams stated the CDD is 222 100% built out and the construction fund is empty. Mr. Barraco stated, although the CDD has 223 not received final certification, everything is complete.

224 Regarding what parts of the infrastructure is the CDD's responsibility, Mr. Adams stated
225 the CDD is responsible for the stormwater system, which includes all recreational ponds/lakes, 226 all inter-connecting pipework, control structures, retaining wall and the preserves, which also 227 receive stormwater from the stormwater ponds. Asked if that includes the 10' strips between 228 homeowner properties and the lakes, Mr. Adams replied affirmatively and stated it includes the 229 perimeter for access. Mr. Barraco stated Staff completed an exhibit that shows CDD ownership
230 and CDD easements. Mr. Adams will include a link to the exhibit on the CDD website.

231 Regarding what will be done about the trees that fell in the preserves, Mr. Adams stated 232 a contractor was engaged and the trees will be removed this week. Another contractor was 233 engaged to pick up small debris at the perimeter of the ponds and map out large debris, such as 234 docks, waves or road runners and a fence contractor toured and will soon submit a proposal.

235 Regarding the costs, Mr. Adams stated the cleanup work can be absorbed in the 236 operating budget but the erosion repairs will be added into the retaining wall repairs and made 237 into one project, which will be financed altogether, at a reasonable interest rate.

238 Regarding whether the CDD can receive reimbursement from the Federal Emergency
239 Management Agency (FEMA), Mr. Adams stated this is a private, gated community so FEMA
240 funds will not be available. Mr. Hasty stated the Board was referred to a Disaster Law Attorney
241 regarding FEMA eligibility and, after a review, the Board was informed that the CDD has no
242 chance of receiving FEMA reimbursement.

243 A resident stated that the docks are damaged, the retaining wall is displaced, materials
244 were scattered and, in their opinion, the area is a mess, and asked who will clean up the docks, 245 pick up the pontoons that washed up on resident lawns and asked if all sprinkler lines in the 246 headwall were checked. He felt that the situation is urgent, as residents are preparing to host 247 relatives and visitors for the holidays.

248 Mr. Adams stated that the sprinkler lines are the adjacent property owners'
249 responsibility and the Master Association is responsible for the recreational management 250 component, such as the docks, boats and pontoons.

251 Discussion ensued regarding residents tidying the docks and retrieving abandoned
252 items, a "Derelict Vessels" law obligation to contact the Florida Fish & Wildlife Conservation
253 Commission (FFWCC) for assistance, insurance coverage, the perceived flawed design, 254 installation of the seawall/retaining wall, seawall materials manufacturer, potential liability on 255 the Developer and wall designer, design criteria, residents filing a lawsuit, the Engineer who 256 inspected and certified the retaining wall, obtaining proposals and when repairs will occur.

257 A resident stated his backyard was re-graded twice. The resident discussed erosion and 258 installing a swale and asked about the CDD's plan. Mr. Barraco stated Staff met with three 259 Developers, Pulte and Stark indicated that they plan to utilize a coco-mat approach, which is 260 one of the three options, and the CDD plans to do the spreader swale at the bottom of the silt
261 within that 10' area that is CDD-owned. Mr. Adams stated the CDD will also give homeowners 262 an option of running hard piping off their downspouts, down the bank and to the lake's edge, 263 and the CDD will tie on to the end and carry it out into the pond, which is an effective option.

264 The resident consensus was to ask the CDD to recommend a professional to review the 265 seawall specs and drawings to determine if it was inadequate, determine how it was installed
266 and have reports generated as quickly as possible. Regarding the request for an analysis, Mr.
267 Adams stated Staff will research the materials used in the construction of the seawall and try to 268 have a manufacturer representative evaluate it. If that is not possible, Staff will confer with the 269 Chair and, if he is in agreement, have a third-party Engineer come out and review it.

270 Mr. Hasty summarized that the erosion situation and the repair and cleanup costs will 271 be evaluated and Staff will facilitate a review of the seawall by the manufacturer.

272 Discussion ensued regarding the importance of establishing specific timelines, securing 273 proposals before the next Board meeting, securing funding, purchasing materials, executing
274 contracts and the need for residents to attend a public hearing regarding planned construction 275 of a gas station on Corkscrew Road that will impact the CDD's waterway.
